

OX2 has appointed Rebecca Karlsson as the new Chief Communications and Sustainability Officer

OX2 has appointed Rebecca Karlsson as the new Chief Communications and Sustainability Officer. Rebecca Karlsson has been the Head of Sustainability and will remain responsible for the work on sustainability. She will also be part of the executive team.

Rebecca Karlsson has worked at OX2 in different positions for almost six years. Before OX2 she was Communications and Marketing director in international companies. Rebecca succeeds Katarina Grönwall who has left the company.

- I look forward to continuing to contribute to OX2's mission to accelerate the transition to renewable energy and together with colleagues and partners develop sustainable projects that add long-term value, says Rebecca Karlsson.

- I look forward to working with Rebecca in her new role. She knows the company, is a great leader and an appreciated colleague. I also want to thank Katarina Grönwall for all the hard work the last years and I wish her all the best in her next chapter, says Paul Stormoen, CEO, OX2.

For further information, please contact:

Edvard Lind
OX2 Communication
Tel. +46 (0)72 727 11 17
press@ox2.com

About OX2 AB

OX2 is a leading renewable energy developer that operates a large and diverse project portfolio across all major technologies, including onshore and offshore wind, solar, and storage. The total portfolio including development, construction, asset management and operations amounts to about 33 GW. The company is also active in developing projects based on other renewable energy solutions, such as hydrogen. OX2 is present in 9 markets across Europe, and Australia. The company has about 500 employees and is headquartered in Stockholm, Sweden. OX2 is owned by EQT, one of the world's largest private equity investors. www.ox2.com.

Image Attachments

Rebecca Karlsson

Attachments

OX2 has appointed Rebecca Karlsson as the new Chief Communications and Sustainability Officer